

Iceland Volcanic Activity

Important Information Regarding Policy Coverage

Applies to all Cover-More policies

Updated: 27th April 2010

Despite the opening of airspace in UK / Europe, it would be premature at this stage to determine that the initial 16 April 2010 event has ceased. Consequently, our underwriter's position is that any further eruption/ ash cloud activity will be deemed to be a continuation of the initial 16 April 2010 event and therefore cover will not be provided under policies purchased after 16 April 2010 for claims arising from Iceland volcanic activity.

We are continuing to monitor the situation and will keep you informed of any amendments in GLA's stance, including any determination that the initial 16 April 2010 event has ceased.
